about

As a company based in the Netherlands, it is important for us to use the Dutch mentality to create, innovate and maintain quality. We are proud to say that we produce our hardware products ourselves, made of raw materials bought close to home. Our left-overwaste from the production process is reused in our new products.

High quality is guaranteed because of the testing of all products. They even are provided with certificates when necessary.

Customers are our focal point and together with their feedback we can extend our high standards of safety and practicality. Bébé-jou can therefore fulfill its mission:

taking care of special moments

because we want what's best for your child. We would love to hear from you on our social media accounts:
